

A Good Death? End of life issues

Kate Moss

Psychoanalytic Psychotherapist
EB Team

St. John's Institute of Dermatology
St. Thomas' Hospital, London

katharine.moss@gstt.nhs.uk

▣

‘What we dread most is not death as an abstraction, but the irrecoverable loss of our connections to those who supply the emotional sustenance on which our very selfhood depends.’

Brothers 2008/Kohut 1981

Elizabeth Kubler-Ross

- Shock/denial
- Anger
- Bargaining
- Depression
- Acceptance

TERRY
PRATCHETT
A DISCWORLD NOVEL
REAPER MAN

▣

Here Lies A. N. Other

Who Had A Good Death

Stayed In The Best Hotel In Paris

Heard Verdi's Don Carlos

Sought Out Lost Friends

(With thanks to The Daily Telegraph, June 23rd 2008)

References

Fenwick, P. & Fenwick, E. (2008)
The Art of Dying, London: Continuum.

Kubler-Ross, E. (1973)
On Death and Dying, London: Routledge.